Le transport Intermodal ferroviaire de marchandises implique la combinaison du transport de marchandises par rail et par camion.

Presque toujours, une cargaison de chemin de fer aura besoin de l'aide d'un camion.

Le camion transporte le fret depuis le nœud ferroviaire jusqu'à sa destination finale.

Avez-vous besoin de transport de marchandises sur de longues distances, de matières dangereuses ou d'objets extrêmement lourds?

Le transport maritime en train permet de réaliser d'énormes économies par rapport au transport routier traditionnel.

Sans parler que c'est mieux pour l'environnement!
